Vacation School Closes

As a conclusion to two enjoyable weeks, the students of the Vacation Bible School invited their families and friends to join in the closing exercises of the school last Friday.

The programme presented by the children was both interesting and varied and gave the onlookers a good idea of the type of work that was engaged in throughout the weeks of the school. Beginning with a sing song, the youngsters demonstrated their vocal ability in both action songs and hymns. This item was immediately followed by a worship period conducted by Mr. Hamilton. Then followed the recitation of Bible verses by the two senior classes and showed time well spent.

The beginners class concluded this part of the programme by the singing of "Jesus bids us shine" sung in the winsome manner of little tots.

Time was then allowed for the inspection of the handcrafts by the parents. These ranged from cut-outs by the little ones to a model of the town of Strathmore to the beautiful work of the girls of flowers and vases and the wood-work of the boys.

In a short address, Mr. Ford paid tribute to the children for their splendid attendance and to the teachers for their splendid leadership and cooperation in running the school.

The evening concluded with the showing of a set of beautifully colored slides on the story of the "Prodigal Son" followed by a most interesting film on the "Training of Elephants". All present agreed that the evening was a most interesting and felt that the school was a great contribution to the Community as well as to the work of the Christian Church in Strathmore and district.

Youth Killed At Hussar

The community of Hussar was shocked and saddened on Friday afternoon, when, just before 6 p.m., Cameron Brown, aged 16, was fatally injured when he fell from a load of hay as it was turning the corner from the Community Hall, and received head injuries. He died before Mr. Paul Hulen, Robert Hulen and nurse Mrs. T. Burdett, were able to get him to the Doctor in Bassano.

Cameron was one of the twins born to Mr. and Mrs. Andy Brown in the Bassano Hospital on January 5, 1937, and with his twin brother, Gordon, was well known and well loved by every one in this community. His loss is being felt by all.

His mother, Mrs. Andy Brown, was in Vancouver at the time of the accident, having gone there to visit a sick sister, and was summoned home by telegram. Mr. H. D. Brown brought her down from Calgary on Sunday, as soon as she arrived.

The funeral services for Cameron Brown were held in the Knox Presbyterian church in Bassano, at 4 p.m. on Monday, July 28, with Rev. Ellen Love Armstrong officiating. Cameron's aunt, Mrs. H. D. Brown, was the soloist, accompanied by her daughter, Miss Ruth Brown.

Interment was made in the Bassano cemetery. The pall bearers were Eastman Dundas, Leland Blake, Jimmy Braden, Gordon Moulton, Howard Brinton, and Verner Nielsen.

He is survived by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Andy Brown, five brothers, Hugh Brown, of Cluny, Don, Tom, Douglas and his twin, Gordon, of Hussar, and five sisters, Mrs. Ruth Brown, daughter of Drumbeller, Mrs. Esther Hood of Calgary, Mrs. Jessie Kirkpatrick, and the Misses Peggie and Lila Brown of Hussar.

WEDDING

CLARK — HNATIUK

A very pretty wedding was solemnized at the Pro-Cathedral of the Redeemer Calgary, on Tuesday July 22, when Mary Amelia, oldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. Hnatiuk, was united in marriage to Lewis Mitchell, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Clark of Hussar, by The Very Rev. Frank Smye, Dean of the Cathedral.

The bride looked very charming as she walked down the aisle on the arm of her father, as the mighty organ pealed out the Wedding March. She wore a beautiful gown of white embroidered nylon marquisette, with a long train, her floor length veil was held by a heart shaped coronet, she carried a bouquet of American Beauty roses, her only ornament was a gold locket inset with mother of pearl, a gift of the groom.

Miss Lola Funnell of Sunnyside, was maid of honor, she wore a dainty floor length gown of pale blue embroidered nylon marquisette and carried pink carnations, her blue chapel veil was surrounded with tiny blue flowers.

Miss Hnatiuk, sister of the bride, wore a floor length gown of pale pink net over pink satin and carried white carnations, she also wore a pale pink chapel veil.

Little Darline Treacy acted as flower girl and looked very sweet in a floor length gown of peach sheer with a wreath of yellow flowers around her head, she carried a colonial bouquet.

Mr. Kenneth Hnatiuk attended the groom as best man and John Hnatiuk and Don Nail acted as ushers. While the register was being signed Mr. A. Key, a member of the Cathedral choir sang "O Perfect Love."

Mrs. M. Hnatiuk, mother of the bride, was very smart in a two piece jersey dress of pale grey and cerise with a small grey felt hat, her corsage was pink roses. Mrs. L. Clark, mother of the groom, wore an afternoon dress of pearl grey and a pink flowered hat, her corsage was of pink roses.

The Church was decorated with white gladioli and Boston ferns.

The reception was held in the Sky Room, where both mothers received the 80 guests. The banquet table was centered with a three tiered wedding cake flanked with white tapers and pink and white streamers.

Mr. Billy Treend acted as toastmaster. The toast to the bride was ably given by Mr. J. M. Wheatley responded to by the groom, who heartily agreed with all the compliments paid to his lovely bride.

Mrs. C. T. Armstrong sang "O Promise Me" and Miss Ruth Treacy played a lovely piano solo. Many good wishes were extended to the bridal couple and the happy day finished up with a dance.

For going away the bride wore a smoky blue garbardin suit and a blue and white hat with white accessories, her corsage was red roses.

Leduc Oil Field

There can now be no doubt that an important new Canadian oil field has been discovered near Leduc, 16 miles south of Edmonton.

"Leduc" is at least a partial answer to the problem of supply and demand even as it stands.

The finding of the new field comes at a time when consumption of petroleum products in Canada is reaching an all-time high and total production of crude oil from other sources is falling. Prairie refineries in 1946 could only obtain about half their requirements from domestic production; the rest had to be imported from fields as far distant as east Texas and Louisiana.

The importance of the Leduc find is emphasized by H. H. Hewatson, president of Imperial Oil Ltd., who said that an increased production of oil in Canada would be good for all segments of the national economy.

The Leduc discovery is the result of an orderly exploration program by Imperial Oil which began in 1919 and which since 1939 has called for an expenditure of $16,500,000.

Calculations by The Financial Post are based on this week's 2 cents a gallon price hoist on fuel oil and an early August 55 cents to $1 a ton increase in the price of anthracite coal. This adds up to a price increase of approximately 22% on anthracite since last winter. Fuel dealers aren't even promising improved supplies as a result of the sharp rises. Refinery officials still refuse to take on new fuel oil business and coal dealers see strong possibilities of anthracite shortage developing by early winter.

Water Conservation and Soil Drifting

The above practical subjects have been topics of serious thought and concern for men actively engaged in agriculture directly and indirectly for many years. Progress towards alleviating the serious condition which can arise if precaution is not taken, has been made, as witness the various irrigation schemes, the latest of which are the St. Mary and Milk River irrigation, which will cover about 350,000 acres and the Bow River Development which will cover about 180,000 acres.

These and kindred projects are vitally necessary if southern Alberta is not to become a Dust Bowl, similar to those in some parts across the line. Improved methods of farming can go far to prevent this condition.

A prosperous fertile district in Alberta and Saskatchewan has been the dream and vision of many heretofore.

It can with the assistance of these life giving projects supplying the necessary water, improved implements and a genuine care for the land, become a reality. It is worth while.

FARM SAFETY WEEK AUGUST 18-23

Owing to the increasing number of accidents on the farm, Canadian Farm equipment dealers are urging that greater care be used in order that these accidents be avoided.

What then remains? Courage, and patience, and simplicity, and kindness, and last of all, ideas remain; these are the things to lay hold of and live with.—A. C. Benson.

There is a high cost to low living.

TALK TURKEY ON NEWFOUNDLAND

Very soon now, the Canadian Government and the seven-man Newfoundland delegation will have to start talking in dollars and cents. The Financial Post says in an Ottawa dispatch.

So far this all-important horse-trading angle has been carefully sidestepped but with the Newfoundland group scheduled to return home on July 29, this will probably be extended. It is felt the time has arrived to talk turkey.

Officially, the Canadian says the money angle won't enter into the discussions. That isn't the way some of the Newfoundland delegates look at it. They feel they've got to have some dollars and cents—perhaps not a formal offer—to show their people just what is financially involved in Confederation.

Without such information Confederation would run a poor third in a referendum to Responsible Government or Lominion status and the existing Commission government, The Financial Post is told.

BOW VALLEY SCHOOL DIVISION INCREASES EDUCATIONAL FACILITIES IN ARROWWOOD

Arrowwood is to receive an increased variety in educational courses as from September first, 1947. Courses will be offered in the academic fields as well as in several vocational fields. Complete high school instruction will be offered to the end of grade XI. Besides the academic courses, plans have been made to offer courses in Industrial Arts, Home Economics, and Commerce. Senior courses in the various fields may be obtained in other centres. The decision to increase the educational facilities was taken at a recent meeting of the Board of Trustees of the Bow Valley School Division.

Steps have been taken to provide Home Economics courses in Cluny. Part of the equipment for these courses is already available. Certain alterations are also to be made to facilitate instruction.

Teachers have now been obtained for all schools in the Division with the exception of four one-room schools. It is hoped that these may be filled in the near future.

Due to the increased enrolment in Queenstown a third room is to be opened in this centre. A teacher has already been engaged for this room.

The Board has found it necessary to provide living accommodations for further staff members in Cluny. Two fairly large teacherages are to be set up here. It is expected these will be ready for use by September 1st. Further teacherages are also being provided for other schools where necessary.

A completely remodelled school building will be available for use in the Fairvale S. D. as from Sept. 1st. The former school in this district is being transformed into a very good teacherage.

The repair man for this Division, along with an assistant, is now very busy doing the necessary repair work and redecoration on various schools before September. He has an extensive repair program lined up.

It has been found that many pianos in the Division require tuning. Steps have now been taken to have a qualified piano tuner visit all schools during the holidays or early in the school year for the purpose of putting all pianos in first class condition.

Mr. Deeter of Arrowwood has been given the contract to operate the West Arrowwood School on route No. 12 as from September 1st. This contract conforms to the new Van Drivers Schedule recently adopted by the Board.

EVERYBODY'S BUSINESS

by Invariably, the man who is most eager to learn succeeds most rapidly.

Obviously, then, it is advisable to use all available means of learning more about our jobs.

Experience is the greatest teacher. Books and lectures are a great help. But few realize how much we can learn by observing and talking to people.

The people who can be of most value to us in this way are those who have made, or are making, their mark in this world. From their ideas, experience and methods valuable information can be gleaned. It is usually easy, I find, to get these people to respond wholeheartedly when asked intelligent questions.

Nor should anyone feel that they are humbling themselves by seeking to learn from others. No one can know all the answers.

But those who know most are usually those who are always open-minded and trying to learn more from others.

Drouth Losses Can Be Reduced

The serious losses from recent heat and drouth emphasize again the importance of conserving all available moisture. Strenuous efforts are usually made to conserve rainfall, but very seldom is there any attempt to utilize snow-fall. Each Spring thaw starts rivulets to fill the potholes and sloughs in the fields, sometimes taking this good bottom land out of production. Farmers are too often resigned to the wastage of this Spring run-off.

Everyone has noticed the green spots in scorched grain fields where snow had drifted into weeds or trash during the previous winter. This small amount of additional moisture, WHERE IT HAS NOT RUN OFF has added several bushels and a grade or two to the returns from these green spots. The Spring run-off comes usually from the stubble land where snow has drifted. To prevent this run-off it is necessary to cultivate the stubble ground soon after harvest. This cultivation must be done with an implement that leaves all stubble standing so that snow is not blown away. Spring tests for moisture penetration show a greater depth of moisture in land so cultivated. The run-off is absorbed by the land with little of it going to the sloughs.

There is another important way in which farmers are wasting moisture reserves. In attempting to get by with the fewest possible strokes to complete a summer-fallow too many farmers are delaying their first Spring stroke until the weeds get a good start. Of course this is wasteful because it takes moisture to grow weeds. However the great risk is that of running into wet weather in June so that it is difficult to kill weeds and some will go to seed before they can be killed. Weed control is so important in moisture conservation that an early Spring stroke for Summer-fallow is essential. Dry weather is more likely to prevail in April and early May when weeds are tender and easily destroyed. Late May and early June, when wet weather usually occurs, should see the first fallow stroke already done. This would mean the difference between success and failure to many farmers.

Timeliness of work is most important in any program of moisture conservation. An abundance of tractor power is essential to accomplish work on time and many large-scale farmers could pay for an extra tractor every year through improved crops due to timely work, where acreage is greater than the tractor power available. Night work and double shifting of tractors is extremely profitable on a farm that is underpowered and no good farmer can afford to overlook it.

LUMBER PEAK REACHED?

There is growing belief in Ottawa that lumber prices have reached their peak and that further changes for most types will be on the downside, reports The Financial Post. Already it is reported that West Coast prices in United States have cracked below the recently-upped Canadian ceiling. A few months ago U.S. prices were far above those prevailing in Canada.

HUSSAR NOTES

By Mrs. M. C. B.

TOO EARLY RETIREMENT?

The proposal to lower the retiring age in the civil service focusses attention on the general tendency throughout business and industry to retire men and women earlier from productive employment.

It is becoming increasingly apparent that the financial cost of pensioning, as advocated in some quarters, may ultimately bring us to a place where the burden of so doing will be greater than the remainder of the necessary work.

Look what's new in the Goodwins' garden!

Mr. Goodwin's shiny new aluminum wheelbarrow is the envy of the neighbours. Junior is as proud as a peacock of his miniature version. Mrs. Goodwin dotes on her new aluminum trowel . . . and her smart new garden chairs, sitting so invitingly in the shade.

Yes, aluminum is a natural in the garden—so light to handle, so perennially rustproof, so enduring. Little wonder it is finding a lot of interesting new uses—in rakes and brooms, lawnmowers and ladders . . . Little wonder the Goodwins' neighbours are determined that from now on their garden tools are going to be aluminum, too.

Where does Aluminum come from?

Its basic raw materials are imported: Bauxite from British Guiana, Cryolite from Greenland, Fluorspar from Newfoundland. Canada makes use of her waterpower and manpower to turn them into Aluminum—uses up no natural resources of her own. All these "ingredients" are brought together at Arvida, Quebec, home of the largest aluminum-producing plant in the world.
